

Houses and Steeples: Colonial Architecture
In the Boston Area
September 10th, 1:00 p.m.
Blanchard Tavern

Seventeenth-century colonial architecture is still very much a part of the Boston area. From the Fairbanks House in Dedham, MA, to the Old Ship Meetinghouse in Hingham, MA, the Boston area is home to many colonial structures. Join MetroArtLinks as we explore the history of colonial architecture of the seventeenth and early eighteenth-centuries in and around Boston through familiar masterpieces as well as undiscovered gems in our midst.
